COURSE SYLLABUS

DEPARTMENT: Junior ROTC Department

COURSE: JROTC 2003 -- Leadership Education and Training (LET Level 3) (Honors)

PREREQUISITE (s): Be enrolled at Cumberland Valley High School as a Sophomore (10th grade) or higher, have completed all requirements for LET 1, and meet all criteria to participate in the JROTC program as outlined in Army Reg 145-2. Normally, cadets will complete LET 2 before taking LET 3, and both must be completed before taking LET 4.

DESCRIPTION: The Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (JROTC) Program prepares high school cadets for responsible leadership roles while making them aware of their rights, responsibilities, and privileges as a citizen. The program at Cumberland Valley High School promotes high school graduation, and encourages cadets to seek higher education and other opportunities that will lead to their long-term success. In addition, the program impresses upon students that it is the individual who determines his or her own success through hard work, integrity, sound judgment, and a desire to be the very best at whatever they do. The goal of LET 3 is to motivate JROTC cadets to be better citizens. To help accomplish this goal, the course covers citizenship, leadership, time and resource management, goal setting, drug prevention and awareness, and a number of subjects that enhance the instruction received in other academic areas, including English, History, Science, and Physical Education. In other words, the course is designed to help the cadet succeed throughout their lives – both while in high school and after graduation.

SPECIAL PROJECTS AND ASSIGNMENTS:

During the school year, students may be given special assignments or projects at the discretion of the instructor. These assignments will be counted toward the student's marking period and/or final grade. Special assignments will (for the most part) be researched and prepared outside of the classroom and submitted in a timely manner, as directed by the instructor. Students not submitting an assignment on time may lose points from their assignment grade.

LET 3 NOTEBOOK STANDARDS:

All JROTC Cadets are required to maintain a notebook for LET instruction. The notebook will not be consolidated with any other course, e.g. math, history, etc. Unless otherwise instructed, students are required to bring the notebook to class every day along with any other required materials and equipment. Cadets may store their notebooks in the classroom and only take home each day those materials which they need to study for upcoming classes.

The LET 3 notebook will contain (as a minimum) the following documents and will be organized as follows, from front to back:

- a. Cadet Reference.
- b. A "Lesson Assignments" section containing the following:
 - = Lesson Assignment Sheets -- sheets of notebook or printer paper for each lesson which lists the cadet's name, LET level, class period, lesson title & number, Key Terms with definitions, class notes, and lesson reflections (see example at Appendix 1);
 - = Handouts, homework, and exercises relating to the lesson
(Note: Cadets will have a separate section for each marking period)
- c. The Course Syllabus
- d. Permanent Student Handouts; e.g., drill and ceremony, physical training, etc.
- e. LET 3 Student Text
- f. The LET 3 Core Materials Workbook (Student Learning Plans)

The LET Notebook and Cadet Portfolio (see below) are subject to inspection on a daily basis through the use of Notebook or Portfolio "quizzes". Spot checks will be made at random by the instructor. Cadets will receive a grade for notebook and portfolio maintenance each marking period. They will be graded for neatness, organization, and completeness (having all your materials, notes, projects, assignments, and exercises).

CADET PORTFOLIO:

All JROTC Cadets will create an organized collection of work based on accomplishments, personality, goals, and aspirations. The portfolio should provide insights and information concerning the cadet's personal achievements and growth over time. Therefore, cadets will retain each year's version of the documents marked with an asterisk below. Cadets will be able to explain how each of the documents can help in their development as citizens, leaders, and/or students. Portfolios will be maintained for the duration of a cadet's JROTC career. LET 3 portfolios will include the following:

- a. Personal cover page.
- b. Personal goals for the school year.*

- d. Personal Skills Map profiles (U3-C1-L3)*
- e. Winning Colors Communication Discovery Form (U3-C1-L1)*

- n. Written reflection on any of the core lessons (Service Learning Reflection is a good example that each cadet should have; i.e., Learning Logs)*

COURSE POLICIES:

1. General: Successful completion of this course requires a student to be self-disciplined, dedicated, and motivated. Although the course instructor will act as a mentor and guide for students throughout the school year, the student will be held accountable for managing his or her time and other resources to meet course requirements. The student will ultimately influence the final grade based on the student's approach to completing assignments, planning for and being present in class for instruction and examinations, conduct, and by active participation both in and outside the classroom.

2. Academic Honesty: Cadets are referred to the Cumberland Valley policy and the JROTC Cadet Creed, which simply states that cadets will not engage in dishonesty of any kind. Violation of this policy will, as a minimum, result in an official reprimand and a grade of "F" issued for that specific assignment, project or examination. Additional disciplinary measures may be recommended or requested at the instructor's discretion.

3. Rules for Taking Tests: Students will adhere to the following rules during tests.

- Follow all written and verbal instructions
- Do not talk or communicate in any way with other students during examinations.
- Do not use notes, handouts or any other references and/or materials not provided to you by the instructor for use during the examination.
- Do not look at any other student's work during the examination.

- If you have a question during the test, raise your hand and wait quietly for the instructor to come to you.
- When you have completed the test, re-check your work, then turn your paper over, put down your pen/pencil, and sit quietly until given further instructions.

4. Examinations/Quizzes: Quizzes may be given at any time during the course. All material covered during a marking period may be included on a quiz or examination. If a semester exam is given, it will include questions from material covered during both marking periods with an emphasis on material from the most recent marking period.

5. Completing Graded Requirements

a. Assignments/Projects. The student has sole responsibility to use effective time management techniques to prepare and turn in assignments and projects in a timely manner. Unexcused late submissions of assignments/projects WILL affect the student's grade as outlined below. Failure to complete homework assignments and/or projects will be addressed in accordance with the Consequences Fact Sheet outlined in the Cumberland Valley Student Handbook.

b. Make-up Procedures. Cadets must understand and follow the procedures listed below when they are absent from a quiz/test or other graded assignments, or when they fail to submit a graded assignment on time.

(1) If a cadet knows about an absence prior to it happening (e.g., a field trip), he/she will coordinate with the instructor to: (a) take the test or submit the assignment prior to departure or (b) agree on a completion date shortly after returning.

(2) If a student has an unexpected absence (e.g., illness), the student will ask the instructor on the cadet's first day back in school, not the next JROTC class, what must be made up. The instructor will establish a new due date, normally allowing additional days equal to the number of days the cadet was absent.

(3) Cadets who do not take tests or submit their assignments on time, and do not have an excused absence, will have their grade reduced as outlined below. Further, cadets will only receive two reminders from the instructor: (a) on the day the test or assignment is due and (b) the next class period. Cadets who are unclear about the status of a test or assignment should talk to the instructor as soon as possible.

Completion Date	Grade Reduction
Same day	5%
Next school day	10%
Two school days late	20%
Three school days late	30%
Four school days late	40%
More than four school days late	Grade of 0% recorded

(4) A cadet may request a make-up for a graded requirement after receiving a grade of 0% for failing to complete it. The make-up must be completed before the end of the marking period in which the requirement was assigned. The cadet must notify the instructor and arrange a time convenient to the instructor for completing the quiz/test or submitting the assignment. The instructor will determine if a make-up will be allowed. The cadet will receive 50% of the score achieved on the make-up assignment. This policy reinforces the importance of students' completing requirements on time, but gives them the opportunity to master the material and to reduce the impact of the grade on their course average by showing initiative and a renewed commitment to good academic performance.

c. Retake Procedures. A cadet may volunteer to retake a failed quiz after completing a study plan developed by the student and approved by the instructor. Students may also be offered a re-test by the instructor when special circumstances exist which, through no fault of the student, may have caused the student to fail. Quizzes for retakes will normally have different questions, but they will be of similar difficulty. The maximum possible grade on a retake is 70%.

6. Excused Absences: Excused absences are defined as absences which occur as a result of conditions or circumstances beyond the control of the student. A pass (signed by an appropriate authority/official) explaining the absence must be presented to the instructor by the student upon his or her return to class. All other absences will be considered as unexcused.

7. JROTC Cadet Creed, Chain of Command, and NCO Support Channel. All cadets will learn the JROTC Cadet Creed, Chain of Command, and NCO Support Channel by the date designated by the instructors in class. This information is provided in Appendices 2, 3, and 4 of this syllabus. Cadets must be able to recite and write this information in its entirety without references or assistance. It may be included as a graded portion of quizzes and other graded assignments throughout the school year.
